1. Purpose and Scope

This policy applies to all pupils (including EYFS) across Ardingly College and Great Walstead School. Ardingly College and Great Walstead aim to meet its obligations with regards to school attendance by promoting good attendance and reducing absence, including persistent absence. Our duty of care is to ensure every pupil has access to full-time education to which they are entitled, act early to address patterns of absence, support parents to perform their legal duty to ensure their children of compulsory school age attend regularly and promote and support punctuality in attending lessons. It sets out expectations and procedures for:

- Promoting excellent attendance and punctuality
- Managing absence (authorised and unauthorised)
- Monitoring attendance
- Responding to students missing from education

High levels of attendance are essential to safeguarding, academic progress, and student wellbeing.

2. Principles and Background

At Ardingly College and Great Walstead School we believe that for a student to reach their full educational achievement a high level of school attendance is essential. Every student has a right to access the education to which he/she is entitled. We believe in working in partnership with our parents/carers to support good attendance and therefore facilitate success in learning. We are committed to providing an education of the highest quality for all our students and endeavour to provide an environment where all students feel valued and welcome. Parents/carers and students play a key part in making our College / School successful. Parents/carers, students and teachers share the responsibility for supporting and promoting excellent school attendance and punctuality for all. We strive consistently to achieve a goal of 100% attendance for all students. Every opportunity will be used to convey to students and their parents or carers the importance of regular and punctual attendance. For our students to take full advantage of the educational opportunities offered it is vital your child is at school, on time, every day the school is open unless the reason for the absence is unavoidable. The routines students develop around attendance and punctuality at school are the same as the expectations of any future employer in the world of work. High attainment, confidence with peers and staff, and future aspirations depend on good attendance. Good attendance is important because statistics show a direct link between under-achievement and absence below 95%, regular attenders make better progress, both socially and academically, regular attenders find school routines, schoolwork and peer relationships easier to cope with, regular attenders find learning more satisfying, regular attenders are more successful in transferring between our School and higher education, employment or training. The foundation for good attendance is a strong partnership between the school, parents and the students.

The Ardingly Family of Schools share the following principles:

- Every child has a right to full-time education.
- Attendance is a safeguarding priority; absence can indicate risk or harm.
- Parents/carers have a legal duty to ensure regular attendance.
- Early intervention is essential where absence patterns emerge.
- A target of 100% attendance is promoted across all schools.

3. Definitions

Child Missing in Education

A child of compulsory school age who:

- Is not on a school roll, and
- Is not receiving suitable education elsewhere.

These children are at risk of harm, exploitation, or disengagement.

4. Registration and Attendance Recording

- Pupils are registered at least twice daily (morning and afternoon sessions).
- Additional registers are taken in lessons and boarding contexts (at Ardingly College) and activities (at both schools).
- Attendance is recorded using recognised codes (Appendix 1) and maintained as a legal record for at least 3 years.

5. Types of Absence

Pupils are expected to attend school every day for the entire duration of the academic year, unless there is an exceptional reason for the absence. There are two main categories of absences:

Authorised absence: is when the school has accepted the explanation offered as satisfactory justification for the absence or given approval in advance for such an absence. If no explanation is received, absences cannot be authorised.

Granted at the school's discretion, including:

- Illness
- Medical appointments
- Religious observance
- Exceptional circumstances (e.g. funerals, interviews)

Unauthorised absence: is when the school has not received a reason for absence or has not approved a child's leave absence from school after a parent's request. This includes:

- parents giving their children permission to be off school unnecessarily, such as for shopping, birthdays, to look after siblings, family holidays
- truancy before or during the school day
- absences which have not been explained.

A school can, if needed, change an authorised absence to an unauthorised absence and vice versa if new information is presented. Any changes will be communicated to parents/carers.

An example of this would be where a parent states a child is unwell but on return to school there is evidence that they have been on holiday.

Includes:

- Holidays during term time without approval
- Truancy
- Absences without explanation
- Non-essential appointments

6. Notification

At Ardingly College, parents are requested to complete an absence form on the portal, or email HoMM's or telephone the school office on the first day of absence with an indication of the length of the absence and expected date of return. At Great Walstead School an email to both the form teacher and the school office should be sent before morning registration. At both Ardingly College and Great Walstead School, if no message has been received, office staff will attempt to make contact with the parent, by telephone and e-mail.

Parents/carers must:

- Inform the school on the first day of absence
- Provide expected duration and reason

If no contact is received:

- The school will attempt to contact parents
- Escalation procedures will be initiated where necessary – see section 12

7. Request for leave of absence

Amendments to school attendance regulations were updated and enforced from September 2013: The Education (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations state that Head Teachers may not grant any leave of absence during term time unless there are exceptional circumstances. It is important to note that Head Teachers can determine the length of the authorised absence, as well as whether absence is authorised at all.

The fundamental principles for defining exceptional are rare, significant, or unavoidable, which means the event could not reasonably be scheduled at another time. There are no rules on this as circumstances vary from school to school and family to family. There is, however, no legal entitlement for time off in school term time to go on holiday and in the majority of cases holiday will not be authorised. Parents/carers wishing to apply for leave of absence need to email:

Nicola Burns (nicola.burns@ardingly.com) for Senior school students.

Laura Lamont (laura.lamont@ardingly.com) for Ardingly Prep students.

Will Fuller (will.fuller@greatwalstead.co.uk) for students at Great Walstead School.

If term-time leave is taken without prior permission from the school, the absence will be unauthorised and if the number of sessions absent hits the thresholds, parents/carers will be contacted, following the procedures laid out below (point 9). Taking holidays in term time will affect your child's schooling as much as any other absence and we expect parents to help us by not taking children out during school time.

8. Monitoring

Monitoring occurs at multiple levels:

- Daily absence checks by administrative staff
- Weekly or half-termly attendance reviews by senior staff
- UKVI Sponsored students (See appendix 2)
- Identification of patterns and concerns
- Safeguarding review where appropriate
- Persistent Lateness (missing registration)
- Persistent Absence
- Truancy

9. Procedures

All concerns will be followed up:

Persistent lateness: parents can expect the relevant member of staff to communicate with either a phone call or email to discuss reasons for lateness and look at steps to ensure students are on time every day.

Persistent absence: when a student's attendance rate is consistently below 90%, academic progress is significantly compromised. The following steps will be taken:

- Relevant staff will contact parents to invite them to discuss further methods of support
- If no improvement is seen and the family does not engage in the recommended support measures, the matter will be escalated to the Senior Management Team (SMT) and the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL)

- Further absence may trigger meetings, support plans, or external referrals (See Appendix 3 for the School Non-Attendance Framework)

Sickness return: when a student is marked with code I (illness) for 15 school days (consecutively or cumulatively) in a single academic year schools are required to notify the Local Authority. This includes the student's name, address and absence details.

10. Advice for Parents

What can I do to encourage my child to attend school?

Children are sometimes reluctant to attend school. Any problems with regular attendance are best sorted out between the school, the parents/carers, and the child. If a child is reluctant to attend, it is never better to cover up their absence or to give in to pressure to excuse them from not attending. This gives the impression that attendance does not matter and may make things worse.

Contact your child's class teacher/HoMM and openly discuss your worries. Your child could be avoiding school for a number of reasons - difficulties with schoolwork, friendship issues, or family difficulties. It is important that we identify the reason for your child's reluctance and work together to tackle the problem.

My child is trying to avoid coming to school. What should I do?

Make sure your child gets enough sleep and gets up in plenty of time in the morning. Ensure that you leave home in plenty of time, with all their belongings for the school day, including a water bottle for prep students.

Show your child, by your interest, that you value their education - be interested in what your child is doing in school, chat to them about the things they have learnt, what friends they have made and even what they had for lunch! For many parents, your child attending school may be your first experience of being separated from them. This can seem daunting at first for both of you, but consistency and a caring, supportive home and school life will make the transition a quick and easy experience for you both.

Leavers

If your child is leaving our school, other than when transferring to another school, parents are asked to give the school comprehensive information about their plans, including any date of the move, new address and telephone numbers, details of their child's new school and the start date when this is known. A form is available in the school office.

If children leave and we do not have the above information, then your child is considered to be a child missing in education. This requires schools and local authorities to then carry out investigations to try and locate your child, which includes liaising with Children's Services, the Police and other agencies. By providing us with all the above information these investigations can be avoided.

Absence through child participation in public performances, including theatre, film or television work and modelling

Parents/carers of a child performer can seek leave of absence from school for their child to take part in a performance. They must contact the head teacher to discuss the nature and frequency of the work, whether the child has a valid performance licence and whether education will be provided by the employer during any future leave of absence. It is, however, down to the head teacher's discretion as to whether to authorise this and they will wish to discuss with you the nature and frequency of the absence and how learning will continue if absence occurs. Any absence recorded as part of a child's participation in a public performance is recorded as C, an authorised absence.

Absence through competing at regional, county or national level for sport

Parents of able sportsmen and women can seek leave of absence from school for their child to take part in regional, county, national and international events and competitions. It is, however, down to the head teacher's discretion whether to authorise this and they will wish to discuss with you the nature and frequency of the absence and how learning will continue if absence occurs. Permission for your child to leave early or arrive late to attend coaching and training sessions is also at the discretion of the head teacher and is not likely to be approved if it is a regular event, unless the sports club or association provides an education tutor as part of their coaching. Where permission is granted, please get in contact with their tutor/HoMM (Ardingly College) or Form Tutor (at Great Walstead) so that we can work out how best to support them so that their academic progress is not harmed and that coming back in to school is not stressful.

11. Roles and Responsibilities

Appendix 2: UKVI Sponsored Students

UKVI sponsored students: It is expected that sponsored student's attendance will not drop below 80% or miss 10 consecutive days of unauthorised absence. If any of the above occurs the school/college will assess the reasons behind this and if necessary, the school/college will report this on the SMS as per the sponsor guidance.

Absent students who are attending Ardingly College through a sponsored visa: We are required to ensure that sponsored students engage with their studies. We will use information about their attendance to monitor this, which will be collected by the college. This will be done on a monthly basis and will include information about attendance, submission of work, exam attendance, tutorials, or contact with their tutor or other staff, as well as their engagement with any additional online learning resources. The information we use will usually relate to the standard attendance requirements of your course.

If we have any concerns about a student's level of engagement with their studies, they will be asked to meet with your HoMM/Class tutor to discuss any problems. This process is designed to be supportive of the students and their studies. We will assist them in obtaining the relevant support as necessary.

If our concerns are not addressed, or a student does not engage, or they have missed too much to continue the course, there may be implications for the student's visa status. In certain cases, we may be required by UKVI to withdraw sponsorship of their visa if we cannot satisfy ourselves that they are appropriately engaged with their study. We are also required to report to UKVI any changes in your circumstances as outlined in the previous section. Some of these changes mean a student's visa will be curtailed (cancelled). We are required to report within 10 days of the change; we will usually email parents 24 hours before making the report.

Appendix 3: School Non-Attendance

1. What is school non-attendance?

Emotional Based School Non-Attendance (EBSNA) is a broad umbrella term used to describe a group of children and young people who have severe difficulty in attending school due to emotional factors, often resulting in prolonged absences from school. The impact of EBSNA on young people and schools is far reaching. Outcomes for young people who display EBSNA include poor academic attainment, reduced social opportunities and limited employment opportunities. EBSNA is also associated with poor adult mental health.

Research from the Children's Commissioner found that in the 2022/23 academic year, 22.3% of all pupils were persistently absent from school. In 2018/19, that figure was 10.9%, meaning that rates of persistent absence have more than doubled since the coronavirus pandemic.

We know that the earlier difficulties are identified and support put in place the more successful we are at developing children and young people's ability to cope with their anxiety and develop their resilience to cope with life's challenges resulting in improved attendance and ongoing life opportunities.

Worrying or anxiety is a normal feeling that we all experience from time to time. It can even keep us safe from harm or help us perform in difficult situations. However, sometimes anxiety or excessive worrying can become a problem especially when it stops people doing what they want or need to do.

Many children and young people worry about school. This is normal. Anxieties are part of life and learning to deal with them is part of growing up. However sometimes a child's worries may lead to difficulties attending school. If your child has high levels of anxiety and does not want to attend school, they may be experiencing Emotionally Based School Non-Attendance (EBSNA).

2. What is the cause?

There is no single cause for EBSNA and there are likely to be various contributing factors for why a young person may be finding it difficult to attend school. It is well recognised in the research literature that EBSNA is often underpinned by several complex and interlinked factors, including the young person, the family and the school environment (Thambirajah et al, 2008).

However, Kearney and Silberman's (1990) review of the literature indicates that there tends to be four main reasons for school avoidance:

- To avoid uncomfortable feelings brought on by attending school, such as feelings of anxiety or low mood.
- To avoid situations that might be stressful, such as academic demands, social pressures and/or aspects of the school environment.
- To reduce separation anxiety or to gain attention from significant others, such as parents or other family members.
- To pursue tangible reinforces outside of school, such as going shopping or playing computer games during school time.

According to this model, the avoidance of uncomfortable feelings or situations described in the first two points could be viewed as negatively reinforcing the EBSNA, whereas in the second two points, the EBSNA could be seen as being positively reinforced by factors outside of school (Kearney & Spear, 2012).

3. What will we do to support a child struggling with Emotionally Based School Non-Attendance?

As each student is an individual, it is important to recognise that a one size fits all policy is unlikely to be successful and as such a tailored approach will be required to support children in these cases. As such the college should complete the following:

- Listen carefully to you and your child. Acknowledging the challenges faced by your child and you as their parent.
- Maintain close contact with you and your child, even during extended periods of non-attendance. An agreed member of staff should be named as a link person.
- Work in partnership with you and your child to find out what difficulties your child is experiencing and find ways of making school a happier place and improve their attendance.
- Hold meetings to devise a plan in conjunction with you and your child. The plan should include what the next steps will be.

- Respond to any school-based needs, such as academic support, dealing with bullying or support with social relationships.
- Consider the support your child might require upon arrival at school. This might include meeting with a friend at a specific place and time, using a quiet space to settle before school starts, engaging in a preferred activity or being given a responsibility such as a monitor role.
- If difficulties persist the school should consider requesting involvement from other professionals.
- The school should refer to the West Sussex EBSA Guidance Document.

4. How will this look to a student struggling with Emotionally Based School Non-Attendance (EBSNA)?

Stage 1

- The Tutor/Form Teacher or HOMM will inform parents if a child's attendance falls below college expectations – see section 9
- Parents/carers may also initiate this process by notifying the school of attendance refusal or decline.
- Early intervention will focus on finding a quick, simple solution where possible (e.g. resolving a recent friendship issue or concerns about incomplete homework).
- If needed, restorative conversations will take place between students.
- Relevant information may also be shared with staff to raise awareness of any concerns.
- If no resolution within 10 working days, this matter could be escalated to Stage 2.

Stage 2

- A senior staff member is allocated as the student's key adult.
- Hold a session in school or via home visit to explore anxieties.
- Use the West Sussex EBSA toolkit for evidence gathering and decisions.
- Meet with parents to discuss student anxieties and outline actions the school is taking.
- Formulate a documented, regularly reviewed plan based on student voice.
- Evaluate a Reduced Timetable (or any other reasonable adjustment) as an exceptional, short-term measure only.
- Include a documented strategy to rebuild the student back to full-time hours.
- Key adult coordinates support with Learning Support, Safeguarding, and the School Nurse.
- Consider referrals to the Designated Schools Team, Fair Access, Senat, or Social Care.
- Mark attendance as authorised while the student participates in the EBSNA pathway. If student fails to participate, attendance is likely to be unauthorised.
- Monitor Stage 2 progress regularly, preferably every two weeks.
- Could progress the matter up to Stage 3 if no progress occurs within a 8-week period.

Stage 3

- Key adult to present the case to a member of the College Executive team.
- Consideration of next steps which could include long term reduction of time in college, dropping of a subject or exploration if setting is correct for the student's needs.
- Consult with Pupil Entitlement team at West Sussex to discuss attendance and steps taken.

- Key adult to continue regular check in with the student and family, continuing to seek a resolution to the issues.
- Consider a SPOA referral to support with students' mental health.
- Absence recording to be reviewed, without medical evidence, absence may be marked unauthorised

5. What can parents do to help their child?

One of the most important ways you can support your child is to calmly listen to them and acknowledge that their fears are real to them. Remind them how important it is to attend school and reassure them that you and the school will work with them to make school a happier place for them. Tell the school there is a problem as soon as possible and work in partnership with the school to address the issue. A plan should be made with the school to help your child.

Towards the beginning of initiating the plan your child may show more unhappiness, and you should prepare yourself for this. It is important that all adults both at home and school, work together to agree a firm and consistent approach. Any concerns about the plan should not be shared with your child and a positive 'united front' is recommended. It is likely that there may be difficulties implementing the plan and these should be anticipated and solutions found. You should try to keep an optimistic approach, if your child fails to attend school on one day, start again the next day. It is also important to remember there is likely to be more difficulty after a school holiday, period of illness or after the weekend. You may feel tempted to change schools, however research tells us that often difficulties will re-emerge in the new school and whenever possible it is normally better to try to resolve the issue in the current school.

Finally, as a parent it can be difficult to see your child unhappy. Make sure that you have someone to talk to too
